Expert educators from the Audubon Society of Rhode Island and Roger Williams Park Zoo will facilitate a Growing up WILD workshop that focuses on children's natural sense of wonder about nature. This workshop gives participants an opportunity to experience a wide range of FUN activities that are developmentally appropriate for children ages 3 to 7. Each participant will receive a copy of the Growing Up WILD guide, filled with activities and ready-made materials that help create positive impressions about nature while also building lifelong social and cognitive skills among young children.

Books are provided free of charge courtesy of RIDEM Division of Fish and Wildlife's Aquatic Resource Education program.

This workshop is approved by the Center for Early Learning Professionals for 3 professional development hours.
